CHINA'S HIGHEST COURT RULES FOR ABRO

Once again ABRO has emerged victorious in our ongoing struggle against the Chinese multinational counterfeiter Hunan Magic Power (HMP). The Beijing People's High Court recently issued a final decision and upheld the lower court's decision to deny HMP's trademark application of "ABRO" in Class 16. The court held that HMP can no longer claim to own any intellectual property rights for the trade name "ABRO".

Hunan Magic Power can no longer claim to own any intellectual property rights for the trade name "ABRO"

While ABRO Industries, Inc. owns trademarks in the word ABRO in a wide variety of product classes, HMP had attempted to hijack a trademark for ABRO in Class 16 by claiming it was for "household" use. HMP then used this pending application in Class

Chinese Customs Inspector explains to TV reporters the process of destruction of counterfeit goods manufactured by HMP and other counterfeiters.

16 to misuse the name ABRO in order to sell their inferior products to unsuspecting customers. During this period of protracted litigation, we were very encouraged by Chinese Customs continuing to seize and destroy HMP shipments of counterfeit ABRO products. Although Chinese Customs could not check every outgoing container, we were able to mitigate the damage caused by HMP's counterfeit ABRO products which did leave China by aggressively seizing their shipments at the ports of call. We were able to do this by using the ABRO trademarks registered in the foreign country in which the shipment was destined. ABRO is currently registered in 156 countries with several applications pending.

This recent decision by the court puts an end to HMP's scheme. HMP will no longer be able to hide behind this "pending" Class 16 application. continued on page 2

This dramatic ruling comes on the heels of the recent arrest and attempted prosecution of HMP's President, Yuan Hongwei, in London on criminal charges of counterfeiting. Hongwei eventually jumped bail and fled England in order to avoid facing trial and being extradited to the United States to face a multitude of charges. Yuan Hongwei is now an international fugitive from justice and effectively a prisoner in China.

This latest ruling is another in a long list of victories in the Chinese courts by ABRO against HMP. In every decision by a Chinese court, ABRO has been declared the winner. For all of its false claims of legitimacy, HMP has never won a single court decision against ABRO.

William Mansfield, the new Director of Intellectual Property for ABRO Industries, noted that "this victory in the Chinese courts shows that HMP's days of hijacking ABRO's intellectual property are coming to an end. Now that HMP has had the thin covering of this false registration torn away, its illicit actions will be seen for exactly what they are, an illegal attempt to profit from the hard work of others."

Since no appeal is possible for this decision, HMP now has no choice but to abandon its unlawfully obtained trademark or face the criminal consequences. In the meantime, ABRO plans to continue fighting HMP wherever and whenever the counterfeiter chooses to rip off unsuspecting customers with its falsely labeled and inferior products.

Peter Baranay, President of ABRO Industries, Inc., and Igor Zorin, ABRO-Russia, jokingly ask "Caesar and Cleopatra" for the approval of spreading the ABRO brand throughout the world.

ABRO's corporate roots extend back to 1939 and therefore most of our customer relationships go back many years. From time to time we want to share some of these fond memories with you.

This picture was taken during the AAPEX show at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas in 1995.

C That day we had been joking with Peter that both Caesar and Cleopatra approved spreading ABRO all over the world, even in Russia!

> Igor Zorin Russian Distributor

The sales of ABRO have risen dramatically since the Russian financial crisis of 1998. How much of the ABRO success is attributable to the approval of Caesar and Cleopatra in 1995 is unknown. We do know Igor has been instrumental in our success in Russia and we appreciate his dedication and friendship. The best part of our business is the long-term relationships we build.

Eleven countries were represented at the 3rd ABRO Marketing Convention held in Cartajena, Colombia on February 3-5, 2008. The group met at the Hard Rock Café on Sunday, February 3rd to enjoy dinner, camaraderie and the Super Bowl. Monday was a full day of seminars. The first speaker was Carlos Alfredo Mansilla Mejia. Mr. Mejia is a professor at a university in Bogotá and gave a motivational speech that was directed specifically towards business owners. The group appreciated Professor Mejia's presentation and hopes to include outside speakers at future conventions.

On Monday, Gustavo Barbosa Cobos, President, spoke about the structure of their operations and gave an overview of how their companies (Cellux, Kandecor, Kangupor and Kanguroid) operate. Gustavo Adolfo Barbosa, Gerente General of Cellux is responsible for the Cellux business and discussed their extensive tape operations. Cellux converts a wide variety of tapes under private labels. Harry Barbosa is responsible for the sale of ABRO products in Colombia. Harry talked about how important the previous ABRO Marketing Conventions held in Ecuador and Nicaragua have been and discussed in detail the ideas they had picked up from the seminars. Harry also discussed the results of the implementation of those ideas. The Barbosa family also demonstrated the promotional sales activities and strategies that have led them to be extremely successful in Colombia. The success of our ABRO Marketing Conventions is dependent upon a free exchange of ideas and information. We want to congratulate the Barbosa family for sharing and being such good hosts. The evening closed with dinner at Restaurante La Vitrola.

On Tuesday, the group toured the Barbosa compound and was given an in-depth look at the Kandecor (wood converting) facility, the

Meet ABRO's Staff

Please meet William Mansfield

Bill officially started with ABRO as the Director of Intellectual Property on March 31st. However, Bill has worked with ABRO for several years. He is one of the key people who designed and implemented the undercover operation that resulted in the arrest of Yuan Hongwei, the President of Hunan Magic Power.

Bill is an attorney specializing in international intellectual property law and is also a former trademark infringement investigator. His goal is to maximize the combined resources of both ABRO and its worldwide distribution network to stop the counterfeiting of ABRO products.

When not working, he loves to spend as much time as possible with his 5 year old daughter, Ginger. Bill also teaches college courses on human trafficking and volunteers with a group that investigates and assists in the prosecution of criminals involved in child exploitation.
