ABRO distributors than ever before joined together Nov. 1st through the 3rd in Las Vegas in preparation for what is expected to be another record setting year for ABRO.

While the entertainment and companionship are a fun part of the AAPEX event, there was still much work to be done. To assist our distributors in that work, ABRO did one more thing bigger and better than ever. The ABRO booth, most recently expanded just two years ago, grew yet again. A spacious new meeting area was added to the already sprawling display booth. The new meeting area gave ABRO distributors a place to meet with their ABRO contacts as well as each other in comfort. All ABRO sales staff reported that the improved facilities were well received by all and found to be of greater assistance.

In his annual Wednesday night event "State of ABRO" speech, Peter Baranay continued the tradition of identifying all first-time

Peter F. Baranay Appointed to EX-IM Bank Advisory Committee

ABRO President Peter Baranay has been appointed to the prestigious Advisory Committee for the Export-Import Bank of the United States.

The United States' government's Export-Import Bank is a key player in the area of international commerce. It was established by the U.S. government in 1934 to help finance and insure the purchase of American made goods by people in other countries. It has been especially essential in the expansion of United States business interests in developing nations where private lenders may be unwilling to take the initial risks inherent in the opening of a new marketplace.

ABRO has been involved with the Ex-Im Bank since 2002. ABRO has not only dealt with the Bank as a client, but has also been called upon several times to assist in the proper running of the institution. In 2003-2004, Jon Cook, ABRO's Director of Credit Operations, served on the Bank's Sub-Saharan sub-committee. Recently Peter

Ex-Im Bank Announces FY2012 Advisory Committee Members

Washington, D.C. – Today, The Export-Import Bank of the United States (Ex-Im Bank) announced the addition of eight new members to the Bank's Advisory Committee for 2012. Now in its 29th year, the Congressionally-established committee helps Ex-Im Bank review policies and programs by providing input from various sectors of the U.S. economy.

Returning member Nelson Cunningham, managing partner of McLarty Associates, will chair the committee

"I am pleased to announce our 2012 Advisory Committee members," said Ex-Im Bank Chairman and President Fred P. Hochberg. "Their service and expertise is greatly appreciated, and we look forward to working together to find new ways to increase U.S. exports and create jobs."

Chairman Fred P. Hochberg with Peter F. Baranay, who will be representing the manufacturing sector.

About Ex-Im Bank:

Ex-Im Bank is an independent federal agency that helps create and maintain U.S. jobs by filling gaps in private export financing at no cost to American taxpayers.

In the past six years, Ex-Im Bank has earned for U.S. taxpayers $3.7 billion above the cost of operations. The Bank provides a variety of financing mechanisms, including working capital guarantees, export-credit insurance and financing to help foreign buyers purchase U.S. goods and services.

Ex-Im Bank approved $32.7 billion in total authorizations in FY 2011 -- an all-time Ex-Im record. This total includes more than $6 billion directly supporting small-business export sales -- also an Ex-Im record. Ex-Im Bank's total authorizations are supporting an estimated $41 billion in U.S. export sales and approximately 290,000 American jobs in communities across the country. was even called upon to speak at the Bank's annual meeting.

The Advisory Committee will provide insight and advice to the management of the Bank based on their own individual experience.

When asked what he feels that he can bring to the table in his new capacity, he points to his experience as a small businessman and entrepreneur. "Too often when people talk about the export of American products they focus only on the large companies like Boeing and Caterpillar" said Mr. Baranay at the annual conference in April 2011, "but most American exports are from small and medium companies like ABRO and it is vital that those companies have a voice when decisions are being made that will affect their ability to do business in non-traditional markets. I intend to be that voice."

Peter Baranay had previously served on the Advisory Committee for Trade Policy and Negotiations in the Office of the United States Trade Representative under President George W. Bush.

Counterfeit Update

CHILEAN COUNTERFEITER PUNISHED

The counterfeiter located in Chile whose arrest was reported in our last issue has now been forced to pay for his crimes.

The infringer will be covering all costs associated with the violation – including paying for the seizure and destruction of the fake goods. He will also be covering ABRO's costs in the matter. More importantly, however, he will be spending an additional 61 days in jail. Finally, he is banned from working for the Chilean government for 3 years.

"This is good news for both ABRO and for the Chilean people" said ABRO President, Peter Baranay, when told about the court's judgment. "Our brand name is protected and the people of Chile can purchase our products with confidence because they know they are the real thing. The Chilean judicial system has proven itself yet again as one of the best in the world."

"A prison sentence is always a good thing" commented ABRO's Director of Intellectual Property, William Mansfield. "When trademark counterfeiting is seen as a crime that can result in jail time, fewer people will go into that illegal business. There are very few people out there who would consider 61 days in jail to be an acceptable 'cost of doing business'."

ABRO SHARES ITS EXPERIENCE WITH CHINESE OFFICIALS

William Mansfield joins with intellectual property attorneys representing several major American brands doing business in China during the recent visit of Chinese government officials.

William Mansfield, ABRO's Director of Intellectual Property, was recently part of an industry panel held during a visit of over a dozen top Chinese government officials as part of the International Cooperation Forum on China's Intellectual Property held in San Francisco on October 17, 2011.

The panel was organized by the Quality Brands Protection Council, the premier Chinese-based organization for Western brand owners who are dealing with counterfeiting issues in China, of which ABRO is a prominent member. It brought together intellectual property professionals working at several major brands to discuss their experience in fighting fake products in China.

The audience included Chinese government officials from agencies including the Ministry of Commerce, the Supreme People's Procuratorate, Chinese Customs, the State Copyright Administration, the State Intellectual Property Office and others. The officials are working on improving China's intellectual property protection systems. It was hoped that incorporating the experience of the panel participants would assist them in improving the efficiency of their systems.

William Mansfield also participated in the Sino-US IPR Roundtable for Government and Business Representatives held after the main part of the conference. He was able to expand on his earlier comments and provide specific recommendations to the assembled officials.

Promoting ABRO in the Russian Far East

ABRO-DV has continued to look for new and unique ways to promote the ABRO name in the Russian Far East. They recently had a building painted in Vladivostok, Russia. This building is on one of the busiest roads in the city and drivers will surely see the wide range of products that ABRO offers every day!

ABRO Retiree Charlene Chmielewski

On December 16th 2011, Charlene Chmielewski retired from ABRO.

Charlene started in July of 1999 and leaves us as a Shipping and Logistics Manager. In that capacity, she coordinated the shipping of ABRO products to over 35 international markets. She especially enjoyed working with ABRO's distributors in Russia and says that they are the part of her job she will miss most.

Asked about her post-retirement plans, Charlene admits that she intends to do virtually nothing for a while "the idea of not working for a few months sounds fantastic" she said. She expects to visit her children and grandchildren around the country.
